

6th FINS NEW YEAR TWILIGHT CRICKET CHALLENGE

Well the West Indians might be coming but we know there is only one Lords on Shelley Test Match!!

Yes it is on again!

On New Years Day, 2010 two teams comprising Fins, their families and anyone else lucky enough to have a Fin they call a friend will battle it out for the John Evans Trophy.

An on the day selection process (if you want to play you'll get a game regardless of talent, age or incapacity!) will see the Raspberries and the Bananas teams re-formed and take the field for another titanic battle.

So far the record stands at a tie for the inaugural game and the Raspberries 3: Bananas 1.

But this year the Bananas are trying a new strategy. Their captain (Jack) has been banished to Tasmania to spend Christmas and the New Year with his family. We hear he is not too unhappy about that.

Bravely Chris Dwyer has stepped forward to lead the Bananas!

The rules and equipment will, as always, be modified and adapted to accommodate even the most unco. Fins who struggle to perform out of water.

After the game a barbeque will be held and the trophy presented.

And yes we have arranged the annual fireworks.

When you go home is up to you!!
